8 charged with organized crime

by Lilly Adkins
ASSOCIATE EDITOR

INEZ — Seventeen people were indicted last week by the Martin County Grand Jury, including eight who are charged with engaging in organized crime.

Kentucky State Police said in a press release issued after the release of the indictments that it conducted an investigation into the theft of funds from the Martin County Water District and it was determined that eight people fraudulently obtained and cashed checks illegally from the water department account.

"Accountants found the money missing, and we were notified, so we initiated an investigation," Kentucky State Police Det. Jason Dials said. "I believe this is the first case we've had like this in Eastern Kentucky."

Named in the indictment are Dennis Scott, 34, of Pilgrim; Melissa Perkins Hinkle, 28; Nannie Lucy Blackburn, 35; Colby Maynard, 26; Alvin W. Johnson, 28; Jerry L. Maynard, 24; Dahryl Justin Keller, 29; and Sean Keller, 27, all of Inez. They are charged with engaging in organized crime, criminal syndicate. Sean Keller is additionally charged with second-degree persistent felony offender.

According to the indictment, from August 2012 through October 2012, the eight allegedly committed, conspired, attempted to commit or act as an accomplice in the commission of theft by unlawful taking over $10,000 from the Martin County Water Board.

Authorities did not release additional details of the case.

Others named in indictments are:

• Joey Howell, 18, of Pigeon Roost, charged with third-degree burglary/complicity and first-degree criminal mischief/complicity.

According to the indictment, on or about Jan. 10, Howell, acting alone or in complicity with a juvenile, allegedly entered Inez Middle School with the intent to commit theft and damaged property in excess of $1,000.

• Chad Nichols, 29, of Lovely, charged with fourth-offense operating a motor vehicle under the influence of alcohol/drugs, reckless driving, failure to produce insurance card and second-degree persistent felony.

According to the indictment, on or before May 21, 2012, Nichols operated a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or other substances that impair a driver's ability to operate a motor vehicle within five years with three prior convictions in the past five years.

The indictment also says that Nichols operated a motor vehicle upon the highway with-

Ex-deputy clerks offered plea deal

by Lilly Adkins
ASSOCIATE EDITOR

INEZ — Ex-deputy county clerks Tamberlyn Hairston and her sister, Tonya Mills, both of Lovely, charged in connection with money missing from the Martin County Clerk's Office, were scheduled at Thursday's Pretrial Conference to appear in Martin Circuit Court March 7 for a final report date.

During that hearing, they will either accept a plea agreement, which the commonwealth's attorney's office has offered, or a trial date will be set.

Mills was being held at the Big Sandy Regional Detention Center on a $10,000 cash bond after being arrested a second time following her release from jail on the felony charges, but has since been released and is now in the drug rehabilitation facility Karen's Place in Lawrence County.

Hairston, 41, and Mills, 47, were indicted in December 2012 on charges of abuse of public trust shortly after State Auditor Adam Edelen released the findings of an audit of the clerk's 2011 financial statement and found a number of problems, not only with the 2011 financial statement but also in a review of the 2012 accounts in which more than $16,000 in undeposited cash receipts were discovered.

MOVING OUT

ORCA, AN INDIANA-based company contracted by the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet to blast the mountain in preparation of road construction that will intersect Rt. 40 and Rt. 645 in Martin County, was removing equipment Tuesday morning to make room for a Kentucky company, Brandywine, which will replace Orca and continue the operation. Officials at the scene said the mountain is scheduled to be down by July 31, 2014, with a section of roadway in place. BSN photo/ Lilly Adkins

3 Johnson County residents accused of making meth

by Lilly Adkins
ASSOCIATE EDITOR

HAGER HILL — Three Johnson County residents were arrested Sunday and charged with manufacturing methamphetamine.

Jeffrey Laudermilt, 29, Christina Price, 28, and Michael Wright, 35, all of Hager Hill, are charged with first-degree manufacturing methamphetamine.

According to a press release by Kentucky State Police Post 9, law enforcement received a call of a possible meth lab in the Hager Hill community of Johnson County. Upon their arrival, officers discovered a one-step bottle, HCL generator, and meth precursors inside the residence.

KSP troopers Justin Wireman and Jake Stinnett, and KSP Sgt. Chris Hicks along with Johnson County sheriff's deputy Rodney Minix responded to the residence.

Laudermilt, Price, and Wright were taken into custody and were transported to the Big Sandy Regional Detention Center in Johnson County.

Federal inmates indicted

by Tony Fyffe
BSN MANAGING EDITOR

PIKEVILLE — Three inmates and another person were indicted last week on charges of illegally possessing drugs at the United States Penitentiary Big Sandy in Martin County.

Separate federal indictments charge inmates John Fitzgera Rice, Kelvin Dernard Badger and Michael Degrasse with possession of a prohibited object in 2012.

One indictment says Rice possessed heroin at the prison June 17, 2012, while another accuses Badger

Teleworks to hold job screening

by Lilly Adkins
ASSOCIATE EDITOR

LOUISA — Kentucky Teleworks will host a job screening Wednesday, Feb. 20, to find workers for thousands of available work-from-home jobs with several well-known national companies, including DIRECTV, Amazon.com, T-Mobile, JPMorgan Chase and others.

The event will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Northeast Louisa Career Center on 180 Bulldog Lane in Louisa.

Applicants interested in being screened on-site for jobs should bring a current resume, valid ID and Social Security card, and must also have a distraction-free space for a home office with high-speed Internet access.

At the screening, Kentucky Teleworks will screen and accept applications for customer service, information technology (IT) support and sales jobs, with starting pay at $9 per hour with health benefits for full-time employees. Also available are at-home interviewing jobs that start at $8 per hour with the potential to earn up to $11.35 per hour.

Kentucky Teleworks entered into an agreement with a national cable, broadband and phone sales provider to fill 100 telesales positions, which pay upward of $9.55 per hour with full benefits, including commission and bonuses.

The organization also has agreements with six companies that are seeking to fill nearly 3,000 jobs.

Participants at the Louisa job screening event will learn about telework job opportunities available in a variety of fields, including data entry, medical transcription and coding, IT support, computer programming, tutoring and teaching, sales and management.

Participants will also learn how Kentucky Teleworks can assist and advise in their finding, applying for and obtaining the jobs and a press release issued by the organization said that some applicants may be out regard for the safety and convenience of others; failed to produce an insurance card as prima facie evidence that the required security is currently enforced in full force and effect; and after previously being convicted is now being charged with second-degree persistent felony offender.

• Jason Jude, 30, of Pilgrim, charged with receiving stolen property under $10,000 (firearm).

According to the indictment, on or before Nov. 20, 2012, Jude was allegedly in physical possession of three firearms — one savage 243 rifle, one Maverick Model 88 Shotgun and one Remmington Model 7400 rifle.

• Sharon K. Reynolds, 54, of Wayne, W.Va., charged with five counts of first-degree assault and operating a motor vehicle under the influence of alcohol/drugs.

According to the indictment, on or before Sept. 11, 2012, Reynolds allegedly wantonly operated a motor vehicle under circumstances manifesting extreme indifference to the value of human life, creating a grave risk of death and/or serious physical injury to another person that resulted in serious physical injury to Bryant A. Shumate; Jim Wilkerson; Raymond L. Lauer; Cynthia A. Carter and Charlotte S. Short.

The indictment also says Reynolds was operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol or other substances that impair a driver's ability to operate a that motor vehicle.

• Grady Fannin, 42, of Louisa, charged with second-degree burglary and theft by unlawful taking over $500.

According to the indictment, on or about June 24, 2012, Fannin allegedly entered a house owned by Chester P. Horn of Inez with the intent to commit theft and committed the offense of theft by unlawful taking by taking over $500 (auto) by knowingly and unlawfully taking a 42-inch LG television, a .22-caliber handgun and a Honda TRX420.

• Bradley Preece, 27, and Joseph Isaac Dillon, 33, both of Warfield, charged with receiving stolen property under $500/complicity.

According to the indictment, on or before Sept. 11, 2012, Preece and Dillon allegedly knowingly and unlawfully were in possession of 200 feet of copper wire and two heavy equipment batteries stolen from Martin County Coal Co.

• Elijah C. Daniels, 25, and Jennifer Coe, 29, both of Debord, charged with receiving stolen property under $500/complicity.

According to the indictment, on or before Feb. 24, 2012, Daniels and Coe, acting alone or in complicity with each other, allegedly were in physical possession of $261 worth of scrap metal stolen from Martin County Coal.

Editor's note: An indictment is not an indication of guilt but a determination by a grand jury that criminal charges warrant further judicial review.

DEAL: Ex-deputy clerks to appear in court in March

Mills is charged with abuse of public trust over $10,000, while Hairston is charged with abuse of public trust under $10,000 and four counts of second-degree criminal possession of a forged instrument.

Mills and Hairston were fired from their job by their mother in August after funds were reportedly found missing from the office.

After being indicted, both Mills and Hairston turned themselves in at the Big Sandy Regional Detention Center and were released on their own recognizance. Mills was arrested again Jan. 10 on unrelated charges and is scheduled to appear for a pre-trial conference in Martin District Court at 9 a.m. on March 5.

Mills is charged with second-offense operating on a suspended or revoked operator's license within five years, excessive windshield/window tinting, license plate not legible, obstructed vision and or windshield, no registration plate, giving an officer a false name or address and operating on a suspended or revoked operator's license.

Ex-resident publishes book

by Lilly Adkins
Associate Editor

INEZ — A former Martin Countian has published a new book, "American Issues: Every American Has An Opinion."

Glenn Mollette is a 1973 graduate of Sheldon Clark High School and has been actively writing for publication since his days at Georgetown College.

Mollette posts opinions on civil union, abortion, coal and more in his new book.

"Divisive issues affect us and cause much introspection," a press release issued by publisher Liberty Torch Press, said. "Each of us grapple with the relentless, nonproductive debates concerning Immigration, Social Security, Medical insurance, War, Military, Abortion, Civil Union, Jobs, National Debt and more. Dr. Glenn Mollette writes about each of these issues and many more in his recent book, 'American Issues: Every American Has An Opinion.'"

The release says that Mollette uses an "informed and enlightened approach to tackle the issues and his experience as a husband, father, pastor, seminary president and previously published author provides him with the ability to stimulate soul-searching concerning the issues and encourages people to stand together to make a difference."

Mollette spent the first three years of high school at Inez High School before Inez and Warfield combined, and then spent his senior year at Sheldon Clark High School before going on to attend Georgetown.

After graduating from Georgetown, Mollette started school at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1977. After graduating in 1980, he started school at Lexington Theological Seminary, where he graduated in 1984.

Mollette is currently president of Newburgh Theological Seminary in Indiana, which offers online seminary/Bible college education for students around the world.

Hatfield-McCoy event slated

PIKEVILLE — Local leadership has joined forces to plan a three-day Hatfield-McCoy Days event scheduled for Labor Day weekend, Aug. 31 to Sept. 2.

Pike County government, the city of Pikeville, Pike County Tourism, Pikeville Tourism and the Southeast Kentucky Chamber of Commerce are all involved in planning, marketing and organizing the event.

"We are looking forward to this event," Pikeville Mayor Frank Justice said. "I believe it will draw a crowd and be fun for local residents, too."

Interest in the Hatfield and McCoy Feud grew following the broadcast of the History Channel's Hatfield & McCoy miniseries in May 2012. Tourists from across the country visited Pikeville and Pike County to see the sites and hear the stories of America's most famous feud. City and county tourism worked together to launch a guided tour in 2012, which proved successful and popular with sold out bookings.

"Being the most progressive county with the most progressive city in central Appalachia, it's only fitting this event be held in Pikeville," Pike County Judge-Executive Wayne T. Rutherford said. "This is the home of the feud and this is where people want to come and see the sites."

The festival will feature arts, crafts, food, a triathlon, a parade and other activities. The Pikeville Rotary Club, Pikeville Kiwanis Club, church groups and other civic and nonprofit organization will be involved.

"We believe that growth in each community, positively affects its neighbors and the region as a whole," said Jared Arnett, president/CEO of the Southeast Kentucky Chamber.

The event will feature artisans and craftsmen from Pike County and across the region. Organizers are recruiting vendors who feature genuine, handmade products.

"Appalachian art is almost a brand name in itself," said Pikeville City Manager Donovan Blackburn, who is also chair of Pikeville City Tourism. "The city wants to provide a public venue for artisans and craftsmen to sell and present their work. There is so much talent in this area and sometimes we forget how lucky we are to have so much talent around us. We want to build on our culture and heritage."

The first-ever Hatfield-McCoy triathlon will be held during the event and organizers are also discussing a fireworks display and a parade.

The festival will conclude with a parade on Monday, Sept. 1. Additional details for the event, including registration for vendors and the parade application, will be released at a later date.

Six indicted in Lawrence Co.

by Lilly Adkins
ASSOCIATE EDITOR

LOUISA — The Lawrence County Grand Jury issued six indictments last week.

Named in the true bills are:

• James W. Thompson, 46, of Genoa, W.Va., charged with first-degree trafficking and tampering with physical evidence.

According to the indictment, on or before Jan. 15, Thompson allegedly trafficked in a controlled substance, more than 10 dosage units, by knowingly and unlawfully being in possession of a schedule II controlled substance with the intent of trafficking in that schedule II controlled substance, Oxycodone.

Thompson also allegedly knowingly and unlawfully concealed, altered, removed or destroyed evidence that he believed would be used against him in an official proceeding, the indictment also said.

• Howard Donald Davis, 39, of Prestonsburg, charged with fourth-degree assault, third or more within five years.

According to the indictment, on or before Dec. 22, 2012, Davis allegedly assaulted Crystal Howard, causing physical injury to her, while having been convicted of two prior fourth-degree assault charges in Floyd District Court, once in 2010 and one in 2011.

• Larry Brewer, 37, and Joetta Marcum, 29, both of Lovely, charged with theft by unlawful taking under $10,000/complicity.

According to the indictment, on or about Dec. 28, 2012, Brewer and Marcum, acting alone or in complicity with each other, allegedly, knowingly and unlawfully, took a Chrysler Voyager Minivan from Eva Burgess of Louisa with a value of $2,150.

• William Chaffin, 24, and Zachary Raines, 19, both of Louisa, charged with theft by unlawful taking over $500/complicity. Chaffin is additional charged with second-degree persistent felony offender.

According to the indictment, on or before Jan. 2, Chaffin and Raines, acting alone or in complicity with each other, allegedly knowingly and unlawfully took a 50' LED High Definition television from Walmart of Louisa with a value exceeding $500 and Chaffin is also a previously convicted felon.

Editor's note: An indictment is not an indication of guilt but a determination by a grand jury that criminal charges warrant further judicial review.

Stumbo bill OK'd in House

FRANKFORT — House Bill 1 passed through the Kentucky House Friday as House Speaker Greg Stumbo's initiative to increase accessibility and transparency to Kentucky's special districts comes one step closer to becoming law.

Stumbo has worked closely on this initiative with State Auditor Adam Edelen as the two leaders move to create a searchable online database that will help show Kentucky taxpayers who, where and why their hard-earned money is being spent.

"I'm proud that this legislation passed out of the House with such strong support," Stumbo, D-Prestonsburg. said. "I think, more than anything, this bill is a testament to the folks at special districts who put in so much time, a lot of it volunteer hours, working to make sure Kentucky's water, sewers, fire districts and any number of other vital services keep running. This legislation will simply, streamline and clarify their reporting requirements while at the same time giving every Kentucky taxpayer the power to track the use of their tax dollars. It's a win – win."

Stumbo's legislation, which as House Bill 1 indicates it serves as the speaker's top legislative priority this session, addresses oversight of special districts and streamlines and simplifies their reporting requirements. The bill also clarifies which districts will be guided by the new reporting standards and creates a website where the districts will publish basic financial information and contact information.

House Bill 1 became a top priority for Stumbo after a special report by State Auditor Adam Edelen showed there was a need for Kentucky to update and simplify the state's decades old system of tracking special districts. All told, Edelen's office found there were almost 1,300 special districts in Kentucky collecting and spending a total of $2.7 billion dollars.

"Rarely has a piece of legislation seen such broad support," said Stumbo, who noted House Bill 1 has the backing of the Kentucky Association of counties, the League of Cities, the Library Association and dozens of other influential organizations. "I hope that this legislation continues to receive strong backing as it makes its way through the process, but most importantly, I hope that both taxpayer and service providers find some real value in their effort."

Joining Stumbo in voting in favor of the bill were Reps. Rocky Adkins, D-Sandy Hook, and Hubert Collins, D-Wittensville.

The five biggest tech myths

by Kim Komando

Kim Komando hosts the nation's largest talk radio show about consumer electronics, computers and the Internet.

For an industry that's based on math, science and engineering, technology sure spawns a surprising amount of myths.

Some of these myths are amusing or only mildly annoying. A relative might send you a chain email claiming that Microsoft will pay you cash to forward it on. Another rumor surfaces occasionally that Facebook is going to start charging users a subscription fee.

However, clinging to certain myths can cost you time and money. Let's take a closer look at these serial offenders.

1. Macs never get viruses

Last year's outbreak of the malicious Trojan called Flashback infected more than 600,000 Macs. The year before that, the fake anti-virus rogueware known as MacDefender also caused chaos for Mac users.

These high-profile security breaches were a wake-up call for Mac users who believed that Apple computers were immune to the viruses that plague PC users.

Apple once boasted in its ads that Mac users could relax and let the built-in defenses of OS X do all the heavy lifting to safeguard their data. The tech giant has since toned down that message.

Don't let your purchase of a Mac lull you into a false sense of security. Like PC users, Mac users should make safe browsing and vigilant virus monitoring a top priority.

Download one of the excellent - and free - Mac security programs in my Security Center. And keep it up to date!

2. You get what you pay for with software

Even with budget systems available, computers are a sizeable investment. Fortunately, the software you install doesn't have to add to the bill. Modern computer users are lucky to have a vast and growing library of free, open-source software available. Open-source free software can save you hundreds or thousands of dollars over commercial programs without sacrificing essential features.

LibreOffice and Thunderbird, for example, are free programs that can effectively replace Microsoft Office and Outlook. GIMP is a popular free alternative to Adobe Photoshop. Free software isn't about all work and no play. VLC is one of the best media players available. It will handle nearly any video or movie format you throw at it, including DVD and Blu-ray.

3. The more megapixels, the better the camera

Many consumers focus too much on megapixel count when buying cameras. A 16MP camera has to be better than a 12MP camera, right?

Not necessarily. Camera sensor quality is as much about physical sensor size as pixel amount.

A large 12MP sensor in a DSLR will produce better photos than a tiny 16MP sensor in a point-and-shoot.

To cram that many pixels onto a small sensor, manufacturers shrink the size of the pixels. Smaller, crowded pixels don't capture light as well as bigger pixels spread across a large sensor. The small sensor struggles to capture the tonal range of bright scenes and generates unwanted noise when used in low light.

Ladies in Red events held through February

PRESTONSBURG — February is Heart Disease Awareness Month, and Highlands Health System in conjunction with the Floyd County Health Department held their first Ladies in Red event of 2013.

The annual conference, considered a "heart healthy" event, provides education and information on the prevention of heart disease, especially in women.

Over 50 guests were in attendance and received information from Debbie Ousley, director of cardio diagnostics at Highlands Health System, on the causes of heart disease and how to change habits to reduce risks. Ousley also walked attendees through a short quiz to identify their own risk factors and lifestyle choices.

Following Ousley, Kristal Bradley, project coordinator for the Heartburn Center at Highlands, spoke on the signs and symptoms of a heart attack. Bradley and Ousley both stated that women often put themselves last, and even when they display heart attack signs they seldom call 911 immediately. Bradley provided valuable information on the importance of calling 911 as soon as symptoms occur, and compared it to hearing a fire alarm but not instantly checking to see if there is a fire.

Cheryl Younce, senior clinical dietician for the Floyd County Health Department, shifted the presentation to diet and healthy eating habits. Younce gave an eye-opening display of the fat in common foods, such as grilled cheese, pizza, and taco salad, while providing healthier alternatives.

Ernest Brewer, director of physical therapy at Highlands, finished the presentation with a motivational discussion on the importance of exercise to feel better, live heart healthy and avoid heart disease. Brewer, who admitted going from a sedentary lifestyle himself to a very active lifestyle, presented an actual account of the numerous benefits of exercise.

Often mistakenly considered to affect mostly men, heart disease is the number one killer of women, and Highlands "believes it is essential to educate women about their risks," according to a press release.

Throughout February, Ladies in Red events will be held each Thursday. The next event will be Feb. 14 at the Magoffin County Health Department in Salyersville.

To RSVP for Ladies in Red luncheons, contact Melissa Vance at (606) 886-7468 or mvance@hrmc.org.

Girl Scouts tour Sheriff's office

Paintsville Girl Scout Troop 40 recently took a tour of the Johnson County Sheriff's Office and had the opportunity to try and pull finger prints, take finger prints and play with drunk goggles, aided by deputy Tim Clark. The Girl Scouts also got a sheriff's office history lesson and a drug education class.

Deskins speaks progress

PIKEVILLE — The Pikeville Rotary invited Dr. Shelli Deskins, program director of the Highlands Center for Autism, to speak on autism and the progress being made with children at the center.

She began her presentation acknowledging autism as an epidemic, affecting one in every 88 children, and continued by reviewing some of the characteristics associated with autism, including impaired social and communication skills, and limited, repetitive behaviors, to name a few.

Although, Deskins has presented many times within the region on general autism awareness and education, during the meeting she displayed individual results with an incredibly impactful before and after video featuring one of the children currently being treated at the center. The video began with the child on his first day of treatment and then featured his remarkable progress within just a matter of months.

A pioneer in autism treatment for Kentucky, Deskins has led the charge in serving children diagnosed with autism and their families. Currently, she directs the program that serves eight children, ages 3 to 15, stating, "Each child's program is specially designed to meet their individual goals and needs."

Highlands Center for Autism is the only center-based program in Kentucky exclusively using applied behavior analysis (ABA) in a clinical setting. ABA is a science that uses behavioral techniques to teach children basic and complex skills. It works by reinforcing appropriate behavior while decreasing or eliminating challenging behavior.

Deskins is an Eastern Kentucky native who earned her undergraduate degrees from the University of Kentucky and her M.S. and Ph.D. in psychology from Auburn University. She is also a board certified behavior analyst (BCBA) and chair of the Kentucky Applied Behavior Analyst Licensing Board.

Wolfe retires after 40 years

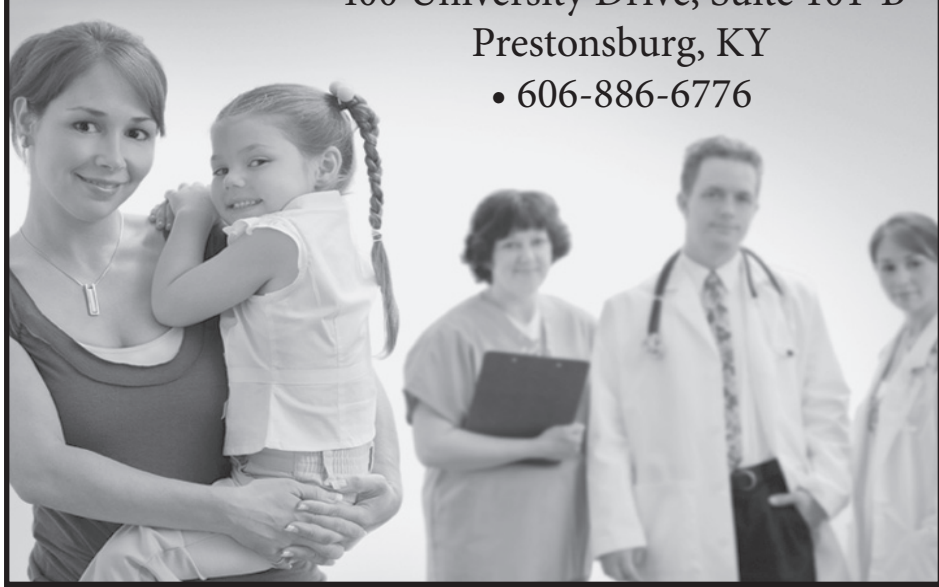

Three Rivers Medical Center in Louisa has announced the retirement of Karen Wolfe, R.N (seated). Wolfe retired after 40 years in the nursing profession, nine of which were spent at TRMC on the Medical/Surgical Unit. "I want to congratulate Karen on her career and her retirement," said Greg Kiser, chief executive officer (left). "We're particularly grateful for her service and commitment to TRMC." A reception was held to honor Wolfe on Thursday, Jan. 23. She was presented with a plaque and rocking chair to commemorate her employment at TRMC.

'Voices of Appalachia' choir

PRESTONSBURG — The Big Sandy Community and Technical College Library will present the Voices of Appalachia Choir Thursday, Jan. 31, at 10:50 a.m., in the Gearheart Auditorium on the Prestonsburg Campus.

Voices of Appalachia, comprised of students from Alice Lloyd College, tours the country sharing the cultural heritage of Appalachia in song. Their program will include selections of shaped note singing. Shaped note singing, as practiced in England during the 1700s, was brought to Southeastern Kentucky by our forbearers and can still be heard in some denominations today.

Thursday's performance, commemorating Appalachian heritage, is the first presentation of the 2013 Library Seminar Series. It is free and open to the public.

For further information, call Judy Howell at 606-889-4750.

GO RED FOR WOMEN

MARTIN — As part of the national effort to increase awareness of cardiovascular disease in women, Saint Joseph Martin, part of KentuckyOne Health, will host a Go Red for Women Lunch & Learn event Friday, Feb. 22 at noon at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park in Prestonsburg.

The free event will feature internist Nida Mateen, M.D., who will present "Your Guide to a Healthy Heart," a keynote addressing women's heart health — including heart attack signs and symptoms, risk factors and tips for prevention. Complimentary lunch will also be provided.

Heart disease is the number one killer of women, but only one in five American women believe that heart disease is their greatest health threat. A staggering 90 percent of women have one or more risk factors for developing heart disease.

February is known across the country as American Heart Month. Cardiovascular disease accounts for over 30 percent of Kentucky's deaths in recent years. Additional information on the benefits of nutrition and exercise, as well as diabetes prevention and management, will also be available. This is a "Go Red for Women" event held in conjunction with the American Heart Association, but men are invited to participate as well.

Details or reservations can be obtained by calling (606) 285-6690. Reservations should be made by Feb. 18.

FAIRCHILD CELEBRATES 40 YEARS OF SERVICE

PRESTONSBURG — As Highlands Regional Medical Center (HRMC) commemorates 40 years of service and dedication to the community, so does one of Highlands Auxiliary's founding members, Garnett Fairchild.

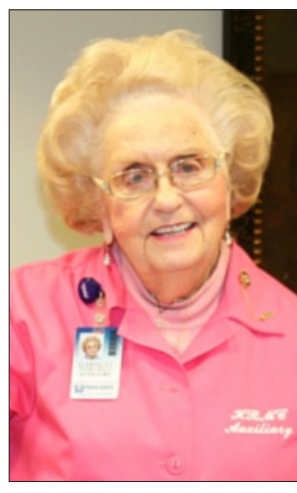

This month, Fairchild celebrates her 40th anniversary as a devoted volunteer.

Fairchild, a lifelong Prestonsburg resident, enjoyed supporting her community through volunteer work beginning in 1973, when there were just two HRMC auxiliary members. Today, Fairchild's efforts have resulted in a volunteer organization with over 65 members. The auxiliary supports HRMC in numerous ways, including making the largest contribution towards HRMC's emergency room renovation in 2008.

Over the years, Fairchild's duties have stretched far beyond traditional volunteer tasks. Just a year after Fairchild began volunteering, she was diagnosed with breast cancer. Thankfully, her cancer was completely removed through surgery and she used that experience to help others. Fairchild visited breast cancer patients within the hospital and counseled them on the healing process. She says it was incredibly rewarding to see a patient's eyes light up when they heard her story of survival.

"The Lord has blessed me in so many ways, and He is keeping me here at Highlands to help people," Fairchild said.

Before beginning her work at Highlands, Fairchild worked as beautician, owning and operating her own salon. In her free time, she taught flower arranging, and still loves to plant flowers and garden. She is also a gifted vocalist, even performing with the Lexington Philharmonic.

Don't get me wrong; megapixels are important. Generally, having more megapixels leads to greater detail in images and allows you to make larger prints.

But the quality of the camera's lens and its on-board image processor is also very important.

The trick to buying a camera is finding one that fits your shooting needs without overspending on technology that you may not need. My Essential Guide to Digital Cameras will help you find the camera that's right for you.

4. Password-protected public Wi-Fi is safe

I'm always urging my listeners to secure their home wireless networks to keep out hackers and criminals. Click here for detailed instructions.

Unfortunately, the same isn't true for public Wi-Fi, such as your neighborhood coffee shop or café, even if it is password-protected.

The point of a password at home is to keep hackers off the network entirely. With public Wi-Fi, hackers can access the network for the price of a cup of coffee.

Once a hacker is on the network, your laptop or mobile gadget is exposed. Any sensitive browsing you do, such as online banking, puts your information at risk of being intercepted.

Some hackers even like to set up their own network with the same name as the coffee shop network. You might think you're connecting to a legitimate business network, but it's really a hacker-controlled network. That makes it even easier for them to steal your information. Even security professionals fall for this tactic!

Be wary about where you go and log in when Web browsing in public. Wait until you get home to do any online banking or shopping, or at least use a cellular connection.

5. Always buy new gear

Many shoppers will endure horrific lines to save 10 percent on the latest gadget, yet they shun 20- to 30-percent discounts on refurbished computers and other tech gear. The assumption is that a refurb will be faulty or buggy.

Customers do indeed return products because they didn't work correctly. But sometimes it's just buyer's remorse and the gear is fine. How do you know?

Go with a refurb from a major company. Tech giants like Apple and Dell fix, test and resell their products with the same support and warranty as new products. Apple even gives you a new battery on mobile products.

As long as you buy direct from the manufacturer (or a trusted reseller), and there's a good return policy and warranty in place, there isn't much of a downside to buying refurbished.

In Apple's case, you can even buy an extended warranty for a refurb. Click here to find out whether that's a smart buy.

Dawgs claim district win over front-runner Sheldon Clark

INEZ — The Lawrence County Bulldogs didn't mind playing on the road Thursday night, making themselves right at home in neighboring Martin County, where they defeated host Sheldon Clark, the front-runner in the 57th District, 61-53.

Five Lawrence County players reached double figures in one of the Bulldogs' most balanced offensive efforts in the 2012-13 season.

Timmy Dalton led Coach Josh Cook's Lawrence County boys' basketball team with 14 points. Austin Chaffins scored 13 points and Robert Dalton added 12 for the Bulldogs.

Robert Dalton registered Lawrence County's only double-double, pulling down 11 rebounds in the district victory.

Grant Kiser and Brandon Richardson chipped in 10 points apiece for the Bulldogs, Lawrence County shot 43.2 percent (19-of-44) from the field. The Bulldogs were four-of-13 (30.8 percent) from 3-point range.

Lawrence County finished 19-of-30 (63.3 percent) from the free throw line.

The Bulldogs corralled 36 total rebounds.

Lawrence County notched its third straight win and won for the fourth time in five outings.

Sophomore guard Chase Parsley paced Sheldon Clark with a game-high 22 points. Parsley delivered for Sheldon Clark throughout the district game.

Senior guard Chase Kirk accompanied Parsley in double figures, scoring 15 points for the Cardinals.

Eighth-grade guard Dylan James and sophomore guard Trevor Blackburn followed, adding seven points apiece for host Sheldon Clark in the loss.

Sophomore center Patrick Rice chipped in two points for Sheldon Clark in the short effort.

Sheldon Clark dropped its second straight game. Another 57th District foe, Magoffin County, had edged the Cardinals 58-57 two nights earlier.

Lawrence County managed to split its regular-season series with Sheldon Clark. When the two teams met on Jan. 17, defending 57th District champion Sheldon Clark managed won 64-59.

Sheldon Clark is under the direction of new head coach Frankie Smith.

The 2012-13 version of the 57th District ranks as one of the most balanced boys' basketball districts in the state.

Golden Eagles defeat Pike Central, Paintsville but drop to Ashland Blazer

BUCKLEYS CREEK — Johnson Central boys' basketball head coach Tommy McKenzie passed his former coach, Johnny Ray Turner, for third on the all-time wins list Tuesday night, Feb. 5, as the Golden Eagles defeated host Pike County Central 72-52.

A veteran head coach, McKenzie guided Johnson Central to the 2012 15th Region championship.

Johnson Central shot 46.3 percent (19-of-41) from the field. The Golden Eagles were only two-of-12 from 3-point range.

Johnson Central flourished at the foul line, shooting 82.1 percent as it drained 32-of-39 free throw attempts.

Sophomore guard Braxton Blair paced Johnson Central with a game-high 25 points. Blair was one of three Johnson Central scorers to reach double figures.

Junior forward Shane Hall added 20 points, 12 rebounds, six blocks, two steals and an assist for the Golden Eagles. Hall also had one dunk in the non-district game versus 15th Region rival Pike County Central.

Joining Blair and Hall in double figures, Dalton Adkins added 10 points for the Golden Eagles.

Slade McPeek scored five points while Kyle Gullett and Truman Salyer added four apiece for the Johnson Central boys' basketball team. Harrison Burchett and Nick McKenzie also got into the scoring act, chipping in two points apiece for the Golden Eagles.

The Golden Eagles grabbed 34 total rebounds.

Johnson Central returned to the win column following a three-point loss to 57th District rival Sheldon Clark one night earlier.

Pike County Central dropped its second straight game, falling for the fourth time in five contests.

Eagles beat Tigers for regular-season sweep

PAINTSVILLE — Host Johnson Central jumped out in front, secured an early lead and never faltered Thursday night, defeating longtime rival Paintsville 73-46 for another key 57th District win in front of a large crowd at Golden Eagle Field House.

Johnson Central completed a regular-season sweep of its crosstown rival. The Golden Eagles defeated Paintsville 55-34 on Jan. 11 when the two teams met for the first time in the 2012-13 season.

Johnson Central shot 45.8 percent (22-of-48) from the field. The Golden Eagles were five-of-13 from 3-point range.

Johnson Central also excelled at the free throw line, where it shot 75 percent (24-of-32).

Sophomore forward Kyle Gullett led Johnson Central with a game-high 22 points. Gullett excelled from beyond the arc, canning four-of-six 3-point field goal attempts. He was one of four Johnson Central scorers to reach double figures. Sophomore forward/center Truman Salyer followed Gullett, scoring 15 points for the Golden Eagles.

Junior forward Shane Hall scored 13 points and grabbed a game-high 12 rebounds for the Johnson Central boys' basketball team. Hall also had four blocks, two steals and an assist,

Sophomore guard Braxton Blair added 11 points for Johnson Central in the win.

The Golden Eagles, under the tutelage of head coach Tommy McKenzie, who registered 100 wins faster than any coach in the Johnson Central High School boys' basketball program's history, led at the conclusion of each quarter.

Johnson Central added to its lead over the Tigers in multiple quarters.

Following the win, Johnson Central improved to 14-9 overall and 5-3 in the 57th District.

Paintsville dropped to 13-9 overall and 4-4 in the district as a result of the loss.

Ashland Blazer 62, Johnson Central 55

Sophomore center Dikembe Dixson scored 22 points and pulled down seven rebounds on Friday night to lead host Ashland Blazer past visiting Johnson Central. Ashland Blazer defeated the Golden Eagles 62-55.

Dixson was one of three Ashland Blazer scorers to reach double figures. Senior guard Logan Salow scored 13 points and senior forward Zach Hart netted 11 for the Tomcats.

Ashland started strong, outscoring Johnson Central 17-8 in the opening quarter. But the Eagles battled back. Johnson Central outscored Ashland 16-7 in the second quarter to send the contest into halftime tied 24-24.

Ashland used scoring advantages over the Golden Eagles in each of the last two quarters to clinch the win. The Tomcats outscored Johnson Central 25-20 in the fourth quarter.

Sophomore forward Nick Miller and junior forward Ross Thompson added eight points apiece for Ashland in the win.

Junior forward Shane Hall led Johnson Central with 15 points, 10 rebounds, four assists one one block. Hall also had two dunks versus 16th Region title contender Ashland.

Four Johnson Central scorers reached double figures. Truman Salyer tossed in 12 points while Braxton Blair and Kyle Gullett contributed 11 apiece for the Eagles.

Dalton Adkins and Nick McKenzie aided the Johnson Central offensive effort, adding four and two points, respectively.

The Golden Eagles shot 39.6 percent (21-of-53) from the field in the loss. Johnson Central was four-of-18 (22.2 percent) from 3-point range.

Visiting Johnson Central attempted a dozen shots from the free throw line, finishing nine-of-12 (75 percent).

HEADED TO THE NEXT LEVEL

LAWRENCE COUNTY HIGH School senior Hali Adams signed to play volleyball for Alice Lloyd College during a ceremony held Friday. Alice Lloyd College volleyball coach Jolene Watts looked on as Adams signed.

Porter pours in 39, leads Lady Bulldogs over Prestonsburg

PRESTONSBURG — Senior guard Taylor Porter, a Murray State University signee, poured in a game-high 39 points and pulled down eight rebounds, also a game-high, to lead visiting Lawrence County to an 80-51 victory over Prestonsburg Wednesday, Feb. 6, at the Prestonsburg Fieldhouse.

Lawrence County secured a lead early and never faltered en route to the win. Coach Roger Harless' Lawrence County girls' basketball team dominated in each quarter.

The Lady Bulldogs shot 50.7 percent (34-of-67) from the field. Lawrence County was 10-of-39 (25.6 percent) from 3-point range.

The Lady Bulldogs had limited chances at the foul line, finishing three-of-six from the charity stripe.

Porter shot 53.3 percent (16-of-30) from the field. She was five-of-16 (31.3 percent) from 3-point range.

The All-State candidate hit both of her free throw attempts in the road game.

Senior forward Kara Kirk contributed 12 points and sophomore forward/guard Savannah Cyrus scored 11 as three Lawrence County scorers reached double figures.

Ten different Lawrence County players broke into the scoring column. Ashleigh Adkins and Caroline Clevenger contributed four points apiece for the Lady Bulldogs. Kelli Lemaster and Kara Williamson added three points apiece for Lawrence County in the non-district victory.

Laiken Fitch and Shelby Hay scored two points apiece and Laken Chapman chipped in one for the Lady Bulldogs.

Lawrence County also controlled the boards, grabbing 34 total rebounds. Cyrus added six rebounds for the Lady Bulldogs.

Lawrence County notched its fourth straight win and prevailed for its fifth win in six games.

Prestonsburg suffered its third straight loss.

The Lawrence County and Prestonsburg girls' basketball teams met for the first time in the 2012-13 season.

Lady Eagles turn back Paintsville girls

PAINTSVILLE — The Johnson Central Lady Eagles won their 57th District regular-season finale Friday night, defeating crosstown rival Paintsville 72-63 at Golden Eagle Field House.

Johnson Central shot 41.7 percent from the floor, connecting on 25-of-60 field goal attempts. The Lady Eagles were eight-of-18 from 3-point range.

Johnson Central also helped its cause at the charity stripe, shooting 65.2 percent (15-of-23) from the free throw line.

Experienced players and talented newcomers helped Johnson Central to the district win. Four Johnson Central players reached double figures in the scoring column. Freshman guard/forward Lauren Delong and senior guard/forward Amber Shepherd led Johnson Central with 19 points apiece. Accompanying Delong and Shepherd in double figures, senior forward/center Montana Blair and sophomore forward/center Rachelle Fairchild finished with 10 points apiece for the Lady Eagles.

Senior guard Chelsea Taylor and junior forward Rachel Hall aided the Johnson Central scoring effort with eight and seven points, respectively.

Shepherd led Johnson Central on the glass, securing eight rebounds. Hall grabbed seven rebounds for the Lady Eagles.

As a team, Johnson Central grabbed 26 total rebounds.

The Lady Eagles completed a regular-season sweep of Paintsville. When the two teams met on Jan. 11, Johnson Central won 70-61.

Johnson Central returned to the win column following a district loss to Sheldon Clark earlier in the week. The Lady Eagles won for the second time in three outings.

Paintsville suffered its third straight loss, following setbacks to district foes Lawrence County and Sheldon Clark earlier in the month.

Both Johnson Central and Paintsville are preparing to compete in the 57th District Tournament.

Katelyn Newsome nominated for McDonald's All-American game

INEZ – McDonald's has announced its list of 814 prep seniors who have been nominated to play in the 2013 McDonald's All American Games, including a player from the Big Sandy region.

This year's list boasts players from 39 states and the District of Columbia who have been selected by high school coaches, athletic directors, principals and members of the McDonald's All American Games Selection Committee.

Only one player hails from Eastern Kentucky – Katelyn Newsome of Sheldon Clark High School. Newsome is one of only five female players nominated in Kentucky.

A complete list of 2013 McDonald's All American Games nominees is available at www.mcdaag.com. The final roster of 24 boys and 24 girls who will be selected to play in the 2013 Games will be announced during the McDonald's All American Games Selection Show on ESPNU on February 14 at 5 p.m. ET.

"East Kentucky has a long history of elite basketball talent and the nomination of Ms. Newsome signifies the hard work and dedication of our young student-athletes. They contribute to their schools, the community and the game," said Bob Hutchison, local McDonald's Owner/Operator. "The McDonald's All American Games presents the opportunity to preview the country's up and coming basketball talent, and we're excited to have our town represented by this outstanding young woman."

The 36th Annual Boys Game will tip-off on Wednesday, April 3 at 8:30 p.m. CT from Chicago's United Center and will be broadcast on ESPN. The 12th Annual Girls Game will precede the Boys Game, beginning at 6 p.m. CT and will broadcast live on ESPNU. Information regarding tickets for the 2013 McDonald's All American Games is available at Ticketmaster. Net proceeds from the Games will benefit Ronald McDonald House Charities (RMHC). The Games have raised more than $10 million for RMHC since its inception in 1978.

Eagle Ridge ranked 10th on public course list

LOUISA — Eagle Ridge is among two Kentucky State Parks golf courses that are ranked among the top 10 courses in Kentucky for 2013-2014, according to Golf Digest magazine.

Dale Hollow Lake State Resort Park in Burkesville had the No. 7 course, and Eagle Ridge at Yatesville Lake State Park near Louisa had the No. 10 course. They were the only two public courses listed among the top 10 in Kentucky.

"This is recognition of the excellent golf we offer our customers and the great staff we have at our courses," Parks Commissioner Elaine Walker said. "We have many excellent courses, and it's gratifying to see two of them on this list." Golf Digest ranked courses on criteria such as course design, aesthetics, and scoring difficulty. The Kentucky State Parks have 18 courses across the state.

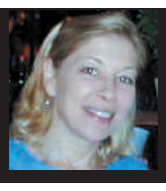

Kentucky State Parks also feature two golf packages for guests: the Chip Shot and the all-inclusive Tees & Zzzs. The Chip Shot package includes 18 holes of golf with cart and lodging. The popular Tees & Zzzs features golf with cart, lodging, breakfast and dinner, plus a gift card.

For information about these courses and golf packages, visit www.parks.ky.gov/golf. To learn more about the Golf Digest rankings, visit http://www.golfdigest.com/golf-courses/kentucky.

WE HAVE LOST OUR OWNERS

These two strikingly beautiful kitties were brought to the Lawrence County (KY) Humane Society Animal Shelter the week of Feb 4th and we are searching for their owners.

Both were brought in together from Hwy 32 area of Louisa.

MONA LISA appears to be a young kitty about 6 - 7 months of age and weighs about 6 pounds . She has a short coat that is a cream color with light brown tiger stripes on her face, legs, and tail, and she has gorgeous blue eyes.

LEONARDO DAVINCI appears to be a little older and larger and has not been neutered. He is a very sweet kitty and has the same coloration & markings as Mona Lisa.

If you are the owner, or you know the owner, please contact Beverly Pack (LC Humane Society Volunteer) at cell 606-571-6224 so that we can re-unite you with your kitties right away.
